

Vladimir Vasku

Born 5.9.1954 in Brno, former Czechoslovakia

Graduated from Faculty of Medicine in Brno 1979

In 1996 defended Ph.D. thesis

In 2003 for position of assistant professor thesis "Selected Pathophysiological Aspects of Psoriasis".

In 2011 he was named Professor of Dermatovenereology in Masaryk University in Brno, Czech Republic.

Head and chair of the I. Dermatoveneneological Clinic at University Hospital and Masaryk University until September 2020

Scientific secretary of the Czech Academy of Dermatovenereology

Member of the AAD since 1995

Board member of the EADV

Honorary member of the American Dermatological Association

Prof. Vašků has always placed a great deal of emphasis on interdisciplinary collaboration at both national and international level.