25th WCD 2023
SINGAPORE
AMBASSADOR

John McGrath

Chair of the Mary Dunhill in Cutaneous Medicine at St John's Institute of Dermatology in London UK.

He is the Academic Head of Department for St John's and leads the Genetic Skin Disease Group. His work and interests centre on the diagnosis and treatment of inherited skin diseases and he had led in the development of next generation sequencing applications as well as the delivery of translational research around cell and gene therapy clinical trials for epidermolysis bullosa.

Professor McGrath is also interested in education and training of fellows throughout the world and in building global research and clinical teams to improve the lives of people living with inherited skin diseases.