Emily Gan

Dr Emily Gan Yiping graduated from the Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore in 2007 with a Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) with Honours. She was awarded the Ministry of Health Training Scholarship in 2009 and embarked on postgraduate training in Dermatology.

In 2014, she completed her Dermatology training at the National Skin Centre, graduating as the top candidate in the specialist exit exams. In 2015, Dr Gan completed a 1-year fellowship in Paediatric Dermatology and Pigmentary Disorders at Hôpital St-Andre and Hôpital Pellegrin des Enfants in Bordeaux, France as well as at The Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, Canada.

On her return to Singapore, she worked at the National Skin Centre, running General dermatology, Paediatric dermatology, Pigmentary Disorders clinics and the Cellular grafting service for vitiligo. She then joined the Dermatology service at KK Women's and Children's Hospital in 2018, where she now runs both Paediatric dermatology and Women's dermatology clinics. She is also a visiting consultant at the Department of Dermatology, Singapore General Hospital.

Dr Gan actively partakes in research and education activities. She has published numerous journal articles and book chapters in peer reviewed publications and has also presented at multiple local and international dermatology conferences. Dr Gan enjoys teaching dermatology and paediatric dermatology to medical students and resident trainee doctors. Her subspecialty interests include pigmentary disorders, atopic dermatitis, pregnancy dermatoses, genodermatoses and vascular anomalies.
