Dr. Tan Chee Hian is presently an Associate Consultant in the National Skin Centre (NSC), Singapore.

He received his Bachelors of Medicine and Surgery from the Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore. Subsequently, he did his training in Internal Medicine (IM) under the National Healthcare Group (NHG) IM Residency Programme. He obtained membership of Royal College of Physicians (MRCP UK) in Year 2016. Thereafter, Dr. Tan completed his senior residency training under the NHG Dermatology Residency Programme and attained specialist accreditation in Dermatology in 2021.

Dr. Tan was appointed as Chief Resident during the final year of his dermatology residency training (AY 2019-2020). He was also elected as Deputy Chief Resident during his IM residency training (AY 2016-2017), where he spearheaded the residents' welfare committee. Being passionate about his community, Dr. Tan was also voted to be part of the NHG Resident Council Executive Committee for AY 2016-2017.

Dr. Tan has diverse interests in clinical dermatology and is actively participating in various research activities at NSC. In addition to his clinical duties, Dr. Tan is also currently a Clinical Teacher at the Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine.
